

REPAIRS

Unfortunately aircraft sometimes get damaged — whether it be minor “hangar rash” or a serious incident — we’ll get your aeroplane in full working order with the minimum of fuss or delay.

We provide a full repair service on all airframe types — metal, composite wood/metal & fabric. All complex repairs are agreed in advanced with the manufacturer or authorising body and are signed off by a licensed engineer/inspector on completion.

We have a good working relationship with many insurers and loss adjusters in the aviation industry and pull out all the stops to ensure that the aircraft is recovered to a safe hangar prior to assessing the damage so that a decision can be taken by the owner and insurer as quickly as possible. We collect (and deliver) any damaged aircraft to make sure that the owner is inconvenienced as little as possible. Unless the airworthiness of the aircraft is affected, “cosmetic” repair work can be incorporated into scheduled maintenance to avoid excessive down time for the aircraft. Should your aircraft have to be grounded in order that a repair can be done, we’ll ensure that the turnaround time is kept to a minimum.
